

Robin S. Reed

Personal / Professional Bio

Robin is the President and CEO of the Black Chamber of Arizona, President of Occam Sustainability Partners (OSP) an international sustainability solutions consulting firm that provides energy saving strategies and Principal & Partner with EmFluent a corporate coaching and consulting company.

Working closely with an outstanding board of directors, Robin has transformed the Chamber into an inclusive and forward thinking community organization that prides itself on collaboration and delivering quality tools and information to its member businesses to foster growth and development of their companies. OSP & EmFluent are privately held companies founded by Robin and address specific needs relative to their market segment. Prior to starting OSP & EmFluent, Robin was a financial advisor with two major wire houses. During his time in the financial services industry Robin specialized in restricted and estate stock transactions. An entrepreneur at heart, Robin has started, acquired, operated and sold several companies over his 35-year career.

Robin's experience in business ownership and business consulting has created a foundation in understanding the needs of business owners and individuals to help them define, execute and meet their financial and professional goals.

Robin is originally from Northern California and current lives in Phoenix, Arizona with his wife and has an adult son and twin daughters in college. An avid golfer, he enjoys getting out on the course 2-3 times per week.

Robin is particularly passionate about Treasure House as his family and friends include several people with unique abilities; a sister in law with developmental disabilities, a nephew that has been diagnosed as being on the autism spectrum and a very close family friend that was born with Down's Syndrome. Because of these very important people in his life, Robin is aware of the importance helping individuals with unique abilities to achieve as much independence as possible in their daily lives.

Robin currently holds the following board seats.

Blue Business Council (Advisory Board To Phoenix Chief of Police): Board Member Since 2016

Phoenix College President's Advisory Board: Co-Chair since 2018
