

CATHERINE RAICHE

Football Operations Coordinator

Philadelphia Eagles

Catherine Raïche is currently the football operations/player personnel coordinator for the Philadelphia Eagles. She joined the organization in July 2019.

She began her career in professional football with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League (CFL). She officially joined the team in December 2015 as the Coordinator of Football Administration, helping the team in numerous capacities, including tracking the salary cap, negotiating and structuring contracts, team travel as well as many other tasks, which allowed her to rapidly gain invaluable experience. She was then promoted to Assistant General Manager of Football Operations, in January 2017. In her new capacities, she was also overseeing the day-to-day activities of football operations and evaluating talent. She then joined the Toronto Argonauts as their Director of Football Administration, a position she held until joining the XFL Tampa franchise as their Director of Football Operations.

She obtained her law degree from the University of Sherbrooke and was admitted into the Quebec Bar Association in 2012. She practiced corporate and tax law for three years at the law firm Gascon & Associates.
